

VETERAN DIED OF HEART TROUBLE

Ambrose Story is Suddenly Stricken
While Sitting in the Rear of Miller's Saloon.

CORONER'S INQUEST IS HELD

Talked With Friends a Short Time
Before His Death and Remarked
He Was Not Feeling Well.

Ambrose Story, a veteran of the civil war, who lived a short distance west of the city, suffered a fatal attack of heart trouble about 8:30 o'clock this morning while sitting in a room at the rear of U. G. Miller's saloon on Cincinnati avenue, and died before a physician could reach him. He talked with several of his acquaintances a few minutes before he was stricken and although he stated that he did not feel well it was not believed that he was in a serious condition.

Mr. Story went into the saloon about 7 o'clock and sat down in the chair to rest. A short time later the bartender, Ed Brandt, came in and spoke to Mr. Story. The latter replied that he did not feel as well as usual and had not eaten any breakfast. Mr. Brandt walked up to the cigar counter in front of the saloon and began reading a morning paper.

In a few minutes Mr. Brandt heard someone breathing loudly, but knowing that Mr. Story was in the rear room paid little attention to it until the latter began to gasp for breath. He hurried to him, and found the man sitting in the chair with his head hanging backwards. He called Mr. Miller who was upstairs eating his breakfast and told him that Mr. Story was sick. Mr. Miller came down at once and realized that the man was dying. He ordered that a physician be summoned, but Mr. Story died before the doctor arrived.

The police were notified of the man's sudden death and arrangements were made to take the body to Voss' undertaking establishment. Coroner Frank Dowden was also notified and came here from Brownstown this afternoon to hold the inquest. There is little doubt but that the verdict will be heart failure.

Chief of Police Abell gathered the evidence this morning in order that the inquest might not be delayed and has found that Mr. Story spent the last two nights in the city. He has found that he had not been resting well and had been in failing health for about two weeks. Ambrose Story, jr., who is employed at the Ahlbrand Carriage Company was notified of his father's death and gave instructions regarding the body.

Ambrose Story was seventy-six years of age last February. He was born near Greensburg, Pa., but came to this county over forty years ago. He was a veteran of the civil war, and was well known to the older inhabitants of the city and county. For several years he lived on a farm west of the city. When he was quite young he joined the Christian church and still retained his membership with that denomination. He is survived by his widow, three daughters and two sons.

The funeral services will be held sometime Sunday.

WOODSTOCK MEETING

Two Weeks' Revival Service Will Close Tonight.

The meeting at Woodstock, which has been in progress for two weeks, will close tonight. There has been a growing interest from the beginning. The evangelists were greeted with a fine congregation last evening and at the close of the service one was received by relation. Four candidates await baptism which will be administered tonight. At the close of the service the hand of church fellowship will be extended to the new members.

About seven years ago the work at this place was started as a Sunday School which was organized by Rev. S. H. Huffman, and of which Mrs. M. E. Baker has been superintendent for several years. The success of the work has been largely due to the efforts of Mrs. Baker and her faithful band of workers.

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Elk's Lodge Will Honor Deceased
Members With Public Services on Sunday, December 1.

MUSICAL PROGRAM ARRANGED

Hon Alvin Padgett, of Washington,
Will Deliver the Principal Address at Majestic Theatre.

Memorial day of the Elk's lodge will be observed by the Seymour lodge Sunday, Dec. 1. Arrangements will be made to observe the day on a much more elaborate scale than usual and the exercises, which will be public, will be held at the Majestic theatre. Hon. Alvin Padgett, of Washington, has been engaged to deliver the memorial address. He is an excellent speaker and the local lodge feels it is fortunate in securing his services for this occasion.

Since the lodge has been organized here six of their members have died. The deceased members are the late J. H. Peter, Dr. T. S. Galbraith, J. H. Hodapp, Thomas Lyons, George M. Cole and Robert Sandau.

Memorial day is the time set aside by the lodge for the purpose of honoring their deceased members. Heretofore the exercises have been conducted for the members of the lodge only, but this year public services will be held.

The members of the committee in charge of the arrangements are Judges J. H. Shea, John M. Lewis and O. O. Swails. A musical program will be given in connection with the services at the Majestic. This part of the program has not yet been definitely arranged and will be announced later. The members of the lodge will attend the services in a body.

COUNCIL HOLDS
SHORT SESSION

Water Company Makes Recommendation That Fire Plugs be Placed Under Control of Fire Chief.

INSPECTION HAS BEEN MADE

Valves Were Found Broken and Caps Missing—Would Interfere With the Work of the Department.

The city council held a short session last night with Mayor Swope presiding and a quorum of the members present. Councilmen Hodapp, Taskey and Buse were the absentees.

After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and the other routine business finished, Misch presented a petition signed by Ewing Shields and John Gallimore asking that the council order concrete sidewalks on Bill street between Seventh and Tenth streets. The petitioners asked that the improvement be made on the east side between Seventh and Eighth street and on the west side between Ninth and Tenth streets. The petition stated that as the road was being constructed at the expense of the township they felt that the property owners would construct the sidewalks.

A communication from the Water Company was presented. It stated that an inspection of the fire plugs had just been completed, and that it had been found that persons other than the members of the fire department were using them. In several places the caps had been left off and the fire valves lost. The water company objected to this practice as it lessened the efficiency of the fire department. It was recommended that before the street commissioner or other person use any of the fire plugs for the purpose of flushing sewers or other purposes a permit must be obtained from the fire chief and that the work be done under his direction. In this way he would know what plugs have been used and if any of them were out of order they could be more readily repaired. The report was referred to the board of safety which will meet Tuesday night in special session.

Sanitary Officer Wolfe also made a lengthy report regarding his inspection of the city during the past two weeks. He reported that he had found at a number of places that the trees had grown close to the fire plugs so that the water could not be turned on or off without removing the wrench. He recommended that the matter be taken up with the board of safety and some provisions be made to remedy the trouble, as considerable time would be lost in case of fire. He also recommended that the council make an inspection of several old buildings, but the city attorney stated that in his opinion the buildings could not be torn down unless the city be willing to pay for them. The report was referred to the safety committee, but will likely be taken up by other committees later.

MANY FARMERS AT THE SHORT COURSE

Valuable Suggestions Are Given by the Lecturers at the Various Meetings in Progress.

INTEREST IN CORN JUDGING

Crowd is Divided as Farmers Select the Division in Which They Are Most Concerned.

Seymour is entertaining today several hundred farmers who are here to attend the short course which is in progress. The meetings are all being held on scheduled time and the audiences at each has been satisfactory to the officers of the association and to the instructors who have charge of the short course.

P. R. Edgerton spoke at the Baptist church this morning, upon the subject, "Dairy Herd Improvement." His lecture was well received and he gave many valuable suggestions upon the subject. At 10:00 o'clock the corn judging was held at the Thomas building on South Chestnut street; stock judging at the McCoy garage and the poultry and horticulture meeting at the city building. All of these sections were well attended.

At noon the subject of "Dairying" was discussed at the McCoy garage, and 1:00 o'clock this afternoon the instructors resumed their lectures on "Stock Judging", "Corn Judging", "Horticulture and Poultry" and "Dairying."

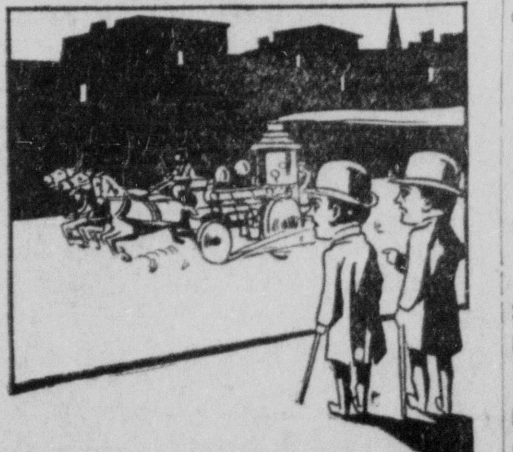

Some of the stock and poultry used in the demonstrations at the Short Course were obtained from local people. Two fine cows from the Glenwood Dairy attracted considerable attention today. Merle Darnette sent several coups of fine birds to the poultry division.

J. C. Beavers gave a very instructive address at the Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock upon the subject, "Practical Methods of Maintaining Soil Fertility." At 3:30 o'clock Otis Crane gave a lecture upon, "The Management of the Laying Hen." This lecture was part of the domestic science department, but because of its importance was given at a time when all of the farmers and their wives could hear it.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight D. O. Thompson will lecture on, "More Live Stock for Indiana." W. R. Palmer will also give a talk on "Beautifying the Home Grounds." Both of these lectures will be held at the First Baptist church.

The program for tomorrow is of unusual interest as it embraces a wide scope of general subjects on rural life. At 9:00 o'clock J. C. Beavers will give an address upon, "More and Better Corn to the Acre" at the Baptist church. The study of "Weeds, Weed Seeds and Small Seed Improvement" will be given at the Thomas building; "The Stock Judging" at the McCoy garage, and "Horticulture and Poultry" at the city building at 10:00 o'clock. "Dairying" will be discussed at 12:00 o'clock. During the afternoon the work in the three divisions will be continued. The special lectures will begin at 2:30 o'clock at the Baptist church when D. O. Thompson

You can rest assured that your property is insured in GOOD COMPANIES every time you hear the fire alarm, if WE place the insurance.

The insurance policy is just as good as the company behind it, no more, no less—if the company is strong and properly managed, you'll enjoy prompt settlement of your losses—otherwise, in all probability, not. Our companies will stand investigation on any of these features.

VISITING NURSE

Has Been Employed by Metropolitan Insurance Co. Here.

The Metropolitan Insurance Company has added a new feature for the benefit of its policy holders in this city. The company has been employing trained nurses in all cities over 3,000 and Mrs. E. R. Dixon has been secured for this city.

It is somewhat unusual for insurance companies to employ nurses for their policy holders, but this company has given the plan a thorough test and believe that it is a benefit to the patrons. The services of the nurse are paid by the company and the policy holders are under no expense. Especial attention will be given to the sanitary condition of the various homes where sickness is reported and it is expected that much improvement along this line can be made by the suggestions of the nurse.

EFFICIENCY AND TRAINING NEEDED

These Are Important Factors in Modern Farming, Declared G. M. Frier In Address Thursday Night.

MANY ADVANTAGES OFFERED

With All the Opportunities the Soil is Comparatively Poor and the Crop Yields are Low.

G. M. Frier, who has charge of the short course which is in progress in this city, delivered an excellent lecture at the First Baptist church, Thursday night, upon the subject, "Agricultural Education in Indiana." The address was prepared from a business standpoint. The speaker said that if business and professional men could be trained and educated, the farmer should make a special effort to become efficient and trained in his line of work for there is hardly any business or profession today which covers a broader field of knowledge than agriculture. He said that in former years it was believed that no special preparation was needed for farm work, but that theory has been overthrown and it is now realized that a farmer should be a well educated and a well trained man.

"Farming must be put upon a sounder business," said the speaker. "The farmer must be efficient. Efficiency here, as elsewhere calls for insight, shrewdness, knowledge of, and the practicing of the best methods, business capacity, and a good understanding of the scientific principles underlying the business of improving the soil, growing larger and better crops economically, a knowledge of feeding and breeding of live stock, etc."

"Has organization and the application of sound business and scientific principles been worked out and used in the business of farming as extensively as in other big, important and difficult business?" the speaker asked. "Farmers never had as many advantages and opportunities as they have now. Their problems and responsibilities were never as numerous nor as great as now. Conditions now are vastly different

WHAT YOU LOOK FOR

In a shoe.

You should look, first of all, for a shoe that will meet your economical needs.

Then of course, should look for a neat appearing shoe, not overlooking comfort.

Then again, first cost must be right with assurance of a little repairs as possible.

Finally you should look for a shoe backed by a sturdy organization with ample capital, and a reputation of sufficient standing to insure your getting your demands.

It now looks like you are looking for Rice & Hutchins shoes. They meet all these demands.

EX-PRESIDENTS TO GET PENSIONS

Carnegie Makes Provisions for Ex-cutives After They Have Retired From Service.

CAN GIVE TIME TO NATION

Sum Will be Offered to Prospective Recipients—Widows Also to Be Remembered by Trustees.

New York, November 22.—Presidents of the United States hereafter receive, on their retirement from office, a pension of $25,000 yearly from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. This will apply to President Taft, but not to Theodore Roosevelt.

The pensions will be granted in order to give the future ex-Presidents an opportunity to devote their unique knowledge gained in public affairs to the public good, free from pecuniary care. A similar amount is to be paid widows of former Presidents as long as they remain unmarried.

The pensions are to be offered promptly to the former Presidents or their widows, so that no application will be required from them. Payment is to be continued so long as the recipients "remain unprovided for by the government."

The announcement followed the second annual meeting of the corporation, held at the home of Andrew Carnegie here, and attended by the corporation's eight trustees.

Five of these eight trustees are the heads of the five institutions which Mr. Carnegie has founded—the Carnegie endowment for international peace, Elihu Root, president; the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching, Henry S. Pritchett, president; the Carnegie institution of Washington, Robert S. Woodward, president; Carnegie hero fund commission, Pittsburgh, Charles L. Taylor, president; Carnegie institute of Pittsburgh, William M. Frew, president.

Baptist Associational Board.

Rev. J. M. Caress, of New Albany, Thomas J. Brengle, of Orleans, and Rev. T. C. Smith of Seymour, representing respectively the Bethel, Orleans and Brownstown Associations, met here this morning with Rev. Wm. B. Pope, D. D., of Franklin, superintendent of Missions for the Indiana Baptist Convention. Arrangements were made for employment of an evangelist to serve the district covered by the three associations during the coming year, and the board hopes to be able to announce the name of the evangelist to be employed.

CASE OF LIBRARY BOARD

Some of the Councilmen Are in Favor of Taking an Appeal.

After the close of the council meeting last night some of the councilmen discussed informally the decision of the case of the library board to make a levy of 6 cents for library purposes. The court recently held that the library board had the right to fix the levy and ordered the county auditor to place the levy of 6 cents on the $100 upon the tax duplicate. When the question was before the council the petition of the board was not considered and a levy of 4 cents was fixed.

Some of the councilmen were in favor of appealing the case, but the city attorney, E. P. Elsner, gave an unofficial opinion that the case was closed so far as the city was concerned as it had never been made a party to the suit. The case was filed against the county auditor and was defended by the county attorney. Mr. Elsner was of the opinion that if an appeal were taken it would be necessary for the county to take the first step. City Attorney Elsner also stated that in his opinion the board had the right to fix the levy under the law and the only question involved was whether the board had a taxing power. It is not probable that the case will be taken to the higher courts.

FORMER SEYMOUR MAN

Elected Grand Warden of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

J. T. Arbuckle, of Rushville, formerly of this city, was elected grand warden of the Grand lodge of Odd Fellows at Indianapolis Thursday afternoon at the closing session of the Grand lodge. Eight other candidates made the race for the office. The contest for this place was the most spirited of any of the elections, as it is the stepping stone to the highest office of the lodge. Mr. Arbuckle practiced law in this city several years ago but for some time has been a resident of Rushville.

The other officers elected were as follows:

H. W. Carpenter of Petersburg, becomes grand master for the ensuing year, and W. M. Nauer, of Vernon, deputy grand master. Grand Secretary W. H. Leedy of Indianapolis, and Grand Treasurer W. A. Morris, of Frankfort, were re-elected. J. L. Harman, the retiring grand master, becomes grand representative for two years.

J. M. Stipp of Michigan City, was also elected grand representative. M. A. Chipman of Anderson, was re-elected as grand trustee for three years.

The troublesome question of whether the grand lodge shall grant the request of the Rebekahs, the women's division of Odd Fellowship, to make a law requiring all representatives in the grand lodge to become members of the Rebekah order, was deferred until the May session of the grand lodge. It was hoped that the matter would be settled at the present session, and Mrs. Kate I. Nichols, of Elkhart, president of the Rebekah assembly, was on hand to keep in touch with the situation. The grand lodge again went on record in opposition to persons in the saloon business becoming members of the order.

YOU NEED S.S.S.

Every sufferer of Rheumatism needs S. S. S. because this great blood purifier is a certain cure for the painful disease. Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid and other corrosive, irritating impurities in the blood, which are carried through the circulation to the different portions of the system. This acid matter coats the nerves, muscles and joints with a fine, caustic deposit and the sharp cutting pains or dull, constant aches are produced. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it is a perfect blood purifier. It goes into the blood, neutralizes the acids, and dissolves the irritating particles and forces them out of the system through the natural excretory channels. Then all inflammation and swelling subside, the pains and aches cease, and not only is Rheumatism permanently cured but under the tonic effects of S. S. S. the entire health is benefited and built up. S. S. S. reaches inherited cases as well as those which have been acquired, and good results always follow its use. S. S. S. is an absolutely safe remedy because it contains no strong minerals to damage the system. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write and request same. S. S. S. is for sale at leading drug stores.

from what they were fifty years ago. It is necessary for us to adjust ourselves to our changed conditions. The standing of the Indiana farmer today is away above what it was ten to twenty-five years ago. Nevertheless our soils are comparatively poor, our crop yields low, our flocks and herds small, and the demand for food stuffs greater than ever before, land labor, living and operating expenses are higher. System organization, science and education must come to the rescue.

Mr. Frier said that the farmers of Indiana should make rapid strides in the direction of scientific farming for the state and provided a school of agriculture with its several courses, and also the experimental station with its experimental work which has proven of a great benefit to the farmers of the state. The extension department with its short courses have done a great work throughout the state in emphasizing the real importance of proper training in agriculture. The agricultural trains, free seed testing laboratory, orchard and field crop demonstrations, judging, contests and farmers' institutes had also done a great work.

The speaker said that there were quite a number of easily understood up-to-date books on agricultural subjects, and there were many good farm papers and that they were gradually finding their way into the home of the farmer. All of those agencies, he said, are making for a better agriculture, better homes and better citizens.

Helen Keller's Discovery.

In the December American Magazine, Helen Keller writes an article entitled "The Hand Of The World." Miss Keller is now thirty-two years old and has been deaf, dumb and blind since babyhood. She is at the same time one of the most intelligent people in the world. An extract from the article follows:

"As the years went by and I read more widely, I learned that the miseries and failures of the poor are not always due to their own faults, that multitudes of men, for some strange reason, fail to share in the much-talked-of progress of the world. I shall never forget the pain and amazement which I felt when I came to examine the statistics of blindness, its causes and its connection with other calamities that befall thousands of my fellow men. I learned how workmen are stricken by the machine hands that they are operating. It became clear to me that the labor-saving machine does not save the laborer. It saves expense and makes profits for the owner of the machine. The worker has no share in the increased production due to improved methods; and, what is worse, as the eagle was killed by the arrow winged with his own feather, so the hand of the world is wounded by its own skill. The multipotent machine displaces the very hand that created it. The productivity of the machine seems to be valued above the human hand; for the machine is often left without proper safeguards, and so hurts the very life it was intended to serve. "Step by step my investigation of blindness led me into the industrial world. And what a world it is! How different from the world of my beliefs! I must face unflinchingly a world of facts—a world of misery and degradation, of blindness, crookedness,

Your Christmas Problem Solved at

T. M. JACKSON'S

You don't have to worry about what to give, I've done the worrying for you.

I have been working for many months to prepare for this event. I have bought goods from all over the country. I have searched the markets everywhere. I have bought the best the world offers.

I am now ready to offer Christmas suggestions to my most intimate friends as well as to those people whom I know only slightly.

I am ready to stake my future reputation on what I offer as suggestions—on what I sell as gifts.

Whether your purchase involves the spending of merely a trifle or of several dollars, I am ready to welcome you and serve you faithfully—serve you intelligently—serve you so well that you cannot help but be pleased.

I mention a few articles that always prove ideal and welcome Christmas gifts.

Diamonds $7.00 to $300.00, Watches $5.00 to $150.00, Rings $1.00 to $225. Also Cut Glass, Gold Jewelry, Silver Ware, Fountain Pens and many other inexpensive but dainty little novelties which will make excellent gifts. Suppose you call in and look us over today, it will pay you well.

MANY FARMERS AT THE SHORT COURSE

son will give a talk on "Silos and Silage." Various lectures will also be given in the domestic science department by Otis Crane and Miss Garvin. Mr. Crane will discuss the problem of "Care of Chickens" and Miss Garvin will give lectures and demonstrations upon, "Bread Making, and Preparation of Desserts." "House Furnishing from the standpoint of Utility, Economy and Beauty" will also be discussed by Miss Garvin, and charts and exhibits will be used to illustrate her remarks. The corn judging has attracted considerable attention today and the room was filled with farmers who were interested in gaining all the information possible. In speaking upon the subject, G. M. Frier said:

It is of great importance to be able to pick out for use as seed or for show purposes, ears of corn that are really good.

One factor in producing big crops of good corn or of any field crop is the seed. The principal object of the corn scoring class is to establish in each student's mind as clearly as possible, a picture of the ideal ear, so that in the selection of seed corn for use on the farm, and in attempts to improve the corn crop generally on our farms, we may have a definite standard toward which to work.

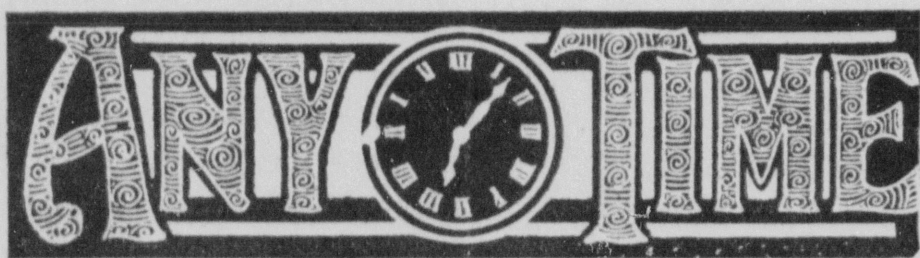

In the corn judging class, the score card adopted by the Indiana Corn Growers Association is used. A couple of hours practice in corn scoring and in working over the corn score card is not expected to make an expert corn judge of any one, but it is a start and will help the farmer to know better what sort of an ear to pick and use for seed.

It is required of a good bunch of seed corn or show corn, that there be as much uniformity as possible about it; ears should be similar in size, shape, color, indentation, size and shape of kernel, there should be no sign of a mixture of different colored corn or of several miscellaneous varieties in the one ear. The ear should be cylindrical or nearly so in shape, full and strong in the middle portion, circumference three-quarters of what the length is, not over 22 nor less than 16 rows to the ear. Beware of corn that is too late for the locality. Tips of ears should be well covered with straight rows of regular kernels. The rows of corn at the butt of the ear should be straight and extend in regular order over the end of the ear, leaving a deep depression when the shank is removed. The ideal kernel is ¾ long by 5-16 wide by 1-6 thick, the tips of the kernel should be full and strong, not pointed sharply, the indentation should be rather rough, the kernels should be as nearly alike as possible all over the ear, ears should be dry, mature and sound in every way, germs large, bright and vigorous. The proportion of each grain to cob should be about 86 per cent. These are some of the interesting and useful things being taught in the corn judging class. Plenty of corn is provided in this class, each student gets a chance to score one or more ears of corn under the guidance of the instructor.

Methodist Revival.

The revival meetings at the First M. E. church are progressing nicely. Rev. J. O. Powell, of Scottsburg preached again last night. He will return this afternoon and will occupy the pulpit tonight. The attendance has been excellent during the week, and the church has been greatly strengthened as the result of the special services. The cottage prayer meetings each afternoon have been especially satisfactory.

We will try and please you. The Day Light Store. d&wtf

You visit our store you will find BARGAINS GALORE and a willing set of clerks to wait on you. However, Saturday we found it impossible to handle the awful rushes we had and at least 100 people had to leave the store without being waited on. The three salesmen I had waited on 800 people, and to guard against another such a rush, I have added another clerk. Where it is convenient for you to do so, we would appreciate your coming earlier in the week to do your regular trading, but if not so, come any time. RAY R. KEACH, East Second Street.

TUBERCULOSIS CONQUERED BY NATURE'S CREATION

RICHARD WILLIAMS.

Given up to die from tuberculosis, his parents being told that his days were numbered, and then he was able to work every day, is the remarkable experience of Richard Williams. In 1910, the following story of his recovery appeared in the Indianapolis papers:

"On the 2d of last May my son, Richard, was taken sick and we called in a doctor. He said Richard was suffering from abscesses, and treated him for nearly three months. While he seemed to get better in some ways he grew worse in others, and finally got so poor that his little body was nothing but a rack of bones. We then called in another doctor, and they held a consultation over him, and it was found that there was a two-inch curvature of the spine also. They did not give me much encouragement, so we again changed doctors, and he said he could do nothing for him, and advised us to put him in the tuberculosis colony at the hospital. But in order to do so we had to have him examined by the tuberculosis specialists, and they would not admit him in the hospital; said he was too far gone. It was then, when the doctors had told us that they could do nothing for him, and we had given up all hopes, that a friend sent me a newspaper clipping referring to Nature's Creation. We procured a bottle of it, and commenced to give it to our boy, and we could notice a change for the better from the first bottle. He has been steadily gaining ever since—his spine is perfectly straight and he has gained in weight fifteen pounds. I will always feel so grateful to the friend that sent me that newspaper clipping and cannot praise Nature's Creation too highly, for I am sure it saved my boy's life. Mrs. L. Williams, 2341 Roosevelt Avenue, Indianapolis, Ind."

OVER TWO YEARS LATER Mrs. Williams, when asked regarding her son's health, stated: "Richard is just feeling fine. He never notices any trouble at all, hasn't taken any medicine since he took Nature's Creation. He is working every day. He never complains and looks fine, and I believe is entirely well. He is very strong. August 30, 1912."

Don't wait or allow your friends to wait until they become in such a condition that even Nature's Creation cannot help them. Investigate today—there is a valuable booklet containing full information regarding the use of Nature's Creation in the treatment of tuberculosis and the conditions which lead to it, such as bronchitis, impure blood, run-down system and asthma. This booklet also contains photos and testimonials from local parties and will be sent free of all charges. M. L. TAYMAN, 417 State Life Building, Indianapolis, Ind. Advertisement.

AUTOMOBILE OVERTURNED

Millionaire Oil Operator Killed Near Hazelton, in Accident.

Hazelton, Ind., Nov. 22.—James B. Murphy, aged thirty-eight and unmarried, a millionaire oil operator of Philadelphia and Vincennes, was killed in an automobile accident near here. Mr. Murphy was one of a party of four oil men going from Mt. Carmel, Ill., to Vincennes. The car skidded on a sharp curve and turned over.

Great Meeting.

At the church of the Nazarene was an old fashioned scene last night. The young, middle aged and old were kneeling together, praying for Jesus sake, to forgive their sins. We are not trying to have a quiet meeting, for this is a special harvest time. There were twelve at the altar last night earnestly seeking a definite experience, and about twenty requests were made for prayer. There will be an automobile street meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Also in the evening a great street parade at 7:00 o'clock.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 special men's meeting conducted by Evangelist U. E. Harding.

Tonsiline Prevents Diphtheria

Diphtheria is the most dreaded disease of childhood, because it is so often fatal. It is invariably preceded by Sore Throat—nature's danger signal. At the appearance of Sore Throat the first thought should be its quick cure. Don't regard it lightly—don't think it may be gone tomorrow. An hour's delay may bring fatal results.

What good doctor in his practice now advises delay or thinks lightly of any Sore Throat, especially in children?

Modern medication wisely endeavors to quickly control and cure the simpler forms of disease—it's so much easier and so much safer than waiting for the graver diseases to follow.

It is right here and in this way that TONSILINE has its greatest value.

Tonsiline will positively cure the Sore Throat and thereby prevent the dread disease—Diphtheria.

Tonsiline is the one remedy, sold largely throughout the United States, exclusively for the cure of Sore Throats. Its field is limited but it does its whole duty every time. TONSILINE has justly earned the success it has achieved as a Sore Throat Cure.

Buy a bottle today and have it ready for instant use.

Tonsiline is the stitch in time. 25 cents and 50 cents. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.

TURKEY REJECTS TERMS OF PEACE

Troops in Tchataldja Forts Again Take Up Their Arms and Reports of Battles Are Heard.

SAY ALLIES ASKED TOO MUCH

Dispatches Say Greeks Had Engagement With Rear Guard, But No Details Are Given.

London, Nov. 22.—The troops of Nazim Pasha in the Tchataldja forts again have taken up their arms, the Turk having rejected the terms of the allies. And in Constantinople once more there comes the sound of artillery fire, telling the people of the sultan's city that the fighting is on again. The action of the Ottoman government comes as no surprise to diplomats. The surrender of Adrianople, Scutari, Janina and Drebia and the evacuation of the Tchataldja lines, the terms under which the allies said they would forego their entrance into Constantinople, made too bitter a pill for the proud palate of the Ottomans.

The official announcement of the terms simply said: "The porte, finding the Bulgarian conditions for an armistice unacceptable, has ordered Nazim Pasha to resume military operations."

The grand vizier, Jiamil Pasha, spoke bitterly of the harshness of the terms. He said that he had received them from the Russian ambassador, Turkey's acceptance of them was impossible, he said.

There comes word of a naval engagement between a Turkish cruiser and Bulgarian torpedo boats in the Black Sea, where each side claims the victory.

There is evidently fighting going on in the waters of the Marmora sea, for the sound of firing could be heard off the southern entrance of the Bosphorus in Constantinople.

Athens has received a dispatch telling of the victory of her troops over the defeated Turkish troops falling back from captured Monastir. The Greeks say they came up with and cut to pieces the rear guard and then pressed on to engage the main body near Florina, where there was a heavy battle. No details of the result of the fight has reached Athens.

GETTING TOGETHER

Europe Has No Desire For a General War at This Time.

Buda Pest, Nov. 22.—[Special Correspondence.]—Never since the beginning of the war has the outlook been less gloomy than today. Never have the official watchmen in their conning towers felt more hopeful of working things out to such a satisfactory issue as will leave Europe in peace and all the interested parties moderately discontented. Von Berchtold, the Austrian foreign minister, who will accompany his majesty to Vienna tomorrow, can on the homeward journey contemplate the future without any of the preoccupation which the situation inspired a couple of weeks ago.

The conviction that the danger of a European war is now infinitesimal is fast gaining ground in the chancelleries of Europe. Serbia is aware that the scope of her patriotic ambition is circumscribed by the legitimate interests of the great powers. She is also alive to the fact that Austria's policy toward her is actuated not, as alleged, by enmity, but by friendship, based on common interests, united efforts and mutual confidence.

Russia understands that Austria has made appreciable sacrifices to readjust her policy to the new order of things in southeastern Europe, and Austria readily recognizes the praise-worthy efforts made by the czar's advisers to prevent a breach of international peace. Italy and France, who entertained the idea that they would suffer commercially by the customs union which they fancied Austria was preparing to impose on Serbia, are beginning to realize that compulsion forms no part of Count Von Berchtold's methods, nor is an obligatory commercial union included among his political ends. In like manner Bulgaria has come to the conclusion that she had better lose no time in laying the foundation for the friendship of Roumania, who has deserved so well of all the Balkan states. Pourparlers to this effect have begun and M. Benoff, the special Bulgarian representative, is expected shortly in Bucharest.

CHAPTER XX.

The Tempter's Voice.

AGAINST his judgment Stuart allowed Bivens to have his way. The little man clambered on deck and bustled about, giving orders to the sailor who was stowing the lunch and ammunition.

When Stuart stopped the tender at the first blind, about 500 yards away, Bivens protested.

"Here, here! I'm no mollycoddle if I have been sick. I can throw a stone to this blind. This isn't the one I want. There it is down yonder toward the end of that marsh. I saw thousands of ducks circling around it yesterday. I've given in to you every day we've been down here. I'm going to have my way this time."

He turned to the sailor who was running the tender's engine and spoke sharply.

"Go to that other blind!"

The sailor sprang to the wheel, and the tender shot ahead. Stuart settled back in his seat with angry disgust, and Bivens laughed.

"Cheer up; it's no use to give orders for a funeral yet. If we can't get back to that yacht in fifteen minutes against any wind that blows today I'll eat my hat. I'm feeling better than I have for months. I'm in for a good time. Don't be a piker."

Stuart determined to make the best of it.

"All right," he answered cheerfully.

"Good Lord, man, I could walk back to the yacht at low water—it all goes bare."

"Yes, unless the wind hauls in to the northeast and rolls in a big tide through that inlet."

"All right; let her roll. The tender will come back and pull us in."

By the time the decoys were out it began to spit snow, and the wind had freshened.

As the sailor was about to start back Stuart spoke sharply:

"Listen to me now, Niels. Keep a sharp watch on this weather. If you see the wind haul to the north put a compass in your tender, take your bearing from the yacht to this blind in case it should shut in thick and come after us in double quick time. You understand?"

"Yes, sir."

"If it looks bad don't wait too long. If it should be blowing a gale you'd better bring the cook along to steer while you watch your engine. Have him fix a light supper before he starts."

Bivens was vastly amused at Stuart's orders.

Stuart scanned the horizon, watching a flock of ducks working their way northward. The sign was ominous. Birds know which way the wind is going to blow before it comes, and if a gale is on the way they always work into the teeth of it.

It was useless to tell this to Bivens. He didn't have sense enough to understand it. But Stuart quietly made up his mind to take up the decoys and row in as soon as the tide ebbed down to two feet of water.

In the meantime he would make the best of the situation. The ducks began to come in and decoy like chickens. He killed half a dozen and in the excitement began to forget the foolhardiness of the trip.

Bivens shot a dozen times, missed, got disgusted and began to fret and complain. He said:

"Jim, would you mind telling me the mental process by which you rejected my offer? You're the only man I've struck on this earth that didn't have his price."

"Perhaps we have different ways of fixing values. You are not yet fifty years old and a wreck. What's the use? What can you do with your money now?"

"It brings luxury, ease, indulgence, power, admiration, wonder and the envy of the world."

"What's the good of luxury if you can't enjoy it, ease if you never take it, indulgence when you have lost the capacity to play, power if you're too busy getting more to stop and wield it?"

"Jim, you're the biggest fool I ever knew, without a single exception."

Stuart glanced anxiously toward the yacht. It was 3 o'clock. The tide had ebbed half out and there was barely enough water on the flats now for the tender to cross. It was snowing harder and the wind had begun to inch in toward the north.

"No more ducks today, Cal," Stuart said briskly, returning to his tone of friendly comradeship. "We've got to get away from here. It's getting colder every minute. It will be freezing before night."

"Well, let it freeze," Bivens cried peevishly. "What do we care? It's just ten minutes' run when the tender comes."

To Stuart's joy he saw the men start the tender.

"It's all right; they're coming now!" he exclaimed. "We'll have another crack or two before they get here."

For months Republican readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. N. P. Charels, 510 S. Chestnut St., Seymour, Ind., says: "Backache made it hard for me to do any work and often I was dizzy. I did not sleep well and in the morning I felt more tired than when I went to bed. Hearing that Doan's Kidney Pills were good for kidney complaint, I got a box, and they soon brought me relief."

The above statement was given April 5, 1910, and during a personal interview on June 25, 1912, Mrs. Charles said: "I am just as willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills now as I was two years ago. INVESTIGATION OF NEW YORK POLICE

Aldermanic Commission Desires Some Information Regarding Condition in Department at Gotham.

INTERESTING IS EVIDENCE

Testimony Tends to Show That Force is in Connivance With Burglars
For Purposes of Gain.

New York, Nov. 22.—Refusing to sign a waiver of immunity for testimony he might give before the aldermanic commission, the committee executive Second Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty without examination. Witnesses questioned by Emory R. Buckner, chief counsel for the committee, and Harold S. Deming, assistant counsel, had testified that the second deputy police commissioner had taken part in framing up a burglary in a loft building across from Grace church on Broadway, the object of which was the capture of certain loft burglars. Testimony charged Mr. Dougherty with assaulting prisoners whom he was interrogating at police headquarters. The testimony bringing in the deputy commissioner's name was given largely by convicts, an admitted stool pigeon and confessing robbers, and the refusal of Mr. Dougherty to waive immunity came as an apparent surprise to the counsel for the committee.

"I have not done anything, and I don't want any immunity, and I won't waive it," remarked the deputy commissioner when he was asked to sign a waiver. "I think it is an insult to ask a man to waive immunity."

The first actual testimony of money passing to policemen to be introduced in the present investigation was given by Harry Sapiro, proprietor of the African Feather company. He already had testified regarding the burglary in his place, and had told of receiving some $1,500 from the National Surety company for feathers still missing after the police returned the loot. The policemen themselves had told of capturing the thieves at the door and taking all the loot to the station house.

Before Sapiro took the stand his lawyer insisted upon his receiving immunity for his testimony. This was granted. Sapiro then said that he had given $175 to Lieutenant John Glynn after the burglary, the detective first asking for $500. Witness understood that the $175 would be made about $25 apiece for the detectives engaged on the case. The money was paid, witness said, in a saloon.

Lieutenant Glynn, the detective accused by Sapiro, signed the immunity waiver before testifying. He said Detective Clare had introduced Levy as Detective Daly's "stool" to witness, and said Levy had some information. Levy told him there was a job coming off in the feather place and Glynn says he asked Levy if Levy was in on the job, and the latter replied he was not. Glynn got permission to put detectives in a building across the street and with his men watched for the burglars. He said he didn't see anybody enter the building, but saw the men when they came out, and grabbed them. He was sure Levy was not there at the time of the robbery. Glynn denied that Levy had told him he was going to let the burglars into the building adjoining, and he had no idea Levy was arranging the robbery.

The burglars, according to testimony given by Levy at a previous hearing, were let into the adjoining building by him and blew a hole with dynamite in the wall, thereby getting access to Sapiro's loft. Levy had further testified he had seen one of the detectives engaged in the case, carrying feathers out.

With regard to the charge made by Sapiro, Glynn admitted meeting Sapiro in the saloon. He denied having asked Sapiro for money or receiving any money from him. One of the prisoners in the case, Goldstein, had testified before the committee that Glynn called on him in the Tombs and said he would get him off with a light sentence if he would bring Levy into the job. Glynn admitted calling on Goldstein in the Tombs, but said it was in response to word from Goldstein that he could give him some information.

WOMAN PERSECUTED

This Opinion Held in Rome Concerning Signora Moschini.

Rome, Nov. 22.—Arrested last Saturday night while in a hotel with a naval lieutenant, on a charge made by her husband, Deputy Moschini, Signora Moschini, formerly Lulu Davis of Texas, has just been released from jail. Her counsel accompanied the American woman, who is believed generally to be the victim of persecution, to her hotel, where she was warmly greeted by the guests. Signora Moschini seemed to be weak and tired, but happy over the fact that she had secured her freedom, especially when she realized that owing to her husband's political and financial influence, she ran the risk of indefinite imprisonment.

In an interview after her release Signora Moschini said: "Last Saturday night I went to a moving picture show with Lieutenant Bellegrand and the seductive Count Le Sage, who, I have now ascertained, was a detective employed by my husband merely to compromise me. When the show was over it was raining hard and I was drenched. As I was suffering from a sore throat, Le Sage proposed that we seek shelter at Lieutenant Bellegrand's house, which was done. Le Sage left the lieutenant and myself alone and hastened to inform the police, who came in and found that I had removed my shoes and was warming my feet at the fire. I had doffed my wet coat and replaced it with one of the lieutenant's. The police arrested us."

WOMAN FOR PRESIDENT

This is What Suffragists Predict in Fifteen Years.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Within the sacred confines of the "Cradle of Liberty" and within a few feet of the liberty bell, there has been read another declaration of independence, the declaration of woman's right to the ballot, and while it was the same declaration that was made at Seneca Falls, N. Y., in 1848, it was wildly applauded as the marking of a new epoch.

No convention was ever more spectacular. Silver haired and golden tongued Dr. Anna Shaw was everywhere prominent. Venerable Belvah Lockwood was there, and she confidently predicted that within the next fifteen years we should have a woman president of the United States.

There was an automobile street parade. Independence Square was packed when the old statehouse bell tolled out the hour, and Dr. Anna Shaw took the platform. Dr. Shaw took up the original Declaration of Independence and declared that it was not framed for Jew or Gentile, male or female, and that its framers had no idea of depriving women of their liberties and the right of suffrage. And the delegates to the national woman's suffrage convention cheered as they never had cheered before. The recent election had given them many new grounds for encouragement and they were in a cheerful and cheering mood.

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson VIII. November 24

THE TRANSFIGURATION. Mark 9:2-13

GOLDEN TEXT.—A voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my Son, my chosen: hear ye him. And when the voice came, Jesus was found alone.—Luke 9:35-36. R. V.

This lesson, like the last, is recorded by Matthew and Luke as well as by Mark. It was the one occasion on which the glory which was always in Him was allowed to shine through in this particular way. In the tabernacle and in the temple the glory of God was always in the holy of holies above the mercy seat, between the cherubim, but the veil concealed it—the veil which was rent in twain from the top to the bottom in the midst when He died and which, we are told in Heb. x. 20, represented His flesh or body. John says that "the word was made flesh and tabernacled among us, and we beheld His glory."

As he makes no record of the transfiguration, possibly he refers to it in this saying, as well as to His whole life on earth. Peter undoubtedly refers to the transfiguration when he says, "We made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and were eyewitnesses of His majesty," for he mentions the holy mount and the words from the Father (John i. 14; ii. Pet. i. 16-18).

In connection with the coming of Christ in glory which He mentioned in last week's lesson He said that some of those who stood there would not taste of death till they had seen the kingdom of God come with power or the Son of Man coming in His kingdom. Then after six intervening days, or, as Luke says, about eight days, He took Peter and James and John into a high mountain, apart by themselves, and as He prayed He was transfigured before them. It seems to me that the wonder was not that the glory now shone through the veil of His flesh, but that it was always there, yet concealed. But it was, as to His whole life, the time of His appearing as one to us, sin excepted (Heb. ii. 14).

His face did shine as the sun, and His raiment was white and glistening, shining, white as the light, white as snow. When Moses came down from the mount the skin of his face shone so that he had to wear a veil while he talked with the people (Ex. xxxiv. 29-35). That must have been reflected light. He did not wear the veil when he went in to talk with the Lord and possibly only after he had done talking with the people. Stephen's face seems to have reflected something of the same light (Acts vi. 15). How wonderful the statements concerning us in Matt. xiii. 43; i. John iii. 2. Consider for a little these two men from heaven who are talking with Jesus and whom the three favored disciples saw and seemed to know, for Peter mentions them by name.

It was over 1,400 years since Moses died and was buried on Mount Nebo (Deut. xxxiv) and perhaps 900 years since Elijah was taken from the side of Elisha on the east of Jordan by a whirlwind and horses and chariot of fire (ii. Kings ii. 11), yet here they are, alive and well and recognized, as no doubt we shall know all in the glory without introductions. They talked with Jesus about His decease, which He should accomplish at Jerusalem (Luke ix. 31).

By virtue of that atoning death they and all the redeemed from Abel onward had enjoyed centuries of bliss, as it were, on a promissory note now about to be paid. None are in glory nor ever can be except by virtue of that precious blood in due time shed on Golgotha. It is the blood that maketh atonement, and without shedding of blood there is no remission of sins (Lev. xvii. 11; Heb. ix. 22). The disciples were heavy with sleep (Luke ix. 32), and so it was also in Gethsemane. And we are not all in a measure asleep to the great things of God? How often we talk as foolishly as Peter, who suggested the three tabernacles, not knowing what to say.

That is a good word for us, "Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light" (Eph. ii. 14). As Peter spoke a cloud overshadowed them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying: "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Hear ye Him." And they saw no man any more save Jesus only with themselves (verses 7, 8; Matt. xxvii. 5-8).

DOMESTIC QUARREL

At Hammond Leads to Murder and Suicide.

Hammond, Ind., Nov. 22.—Frank Cravens, nineteen years old, son of Lincoln Cravens, a Hammond lawyer, formerly of Madison, shot his stepmother four times at her home here and then fired two bullets into his own body. Both will die.

Lincoln Cravens came to Hammond several years ago to be a law partner of Judge J. G. Ibach of the appellate court. When Mr. Ibach was elected Mr. Cravens took over his practice. Two years ago his son Frank suffered the loss of a leg in a railroad accident. Mr. Cravens's wife died and later he married again.

The stepmother and stepson did not agree on all things, and they quarreled just before the shooting. A maid employed in the house heard the quarrel and left the house. Neighbors heard the shooting and, rushing in, found the two bodies on the floor.

We do "Printing that Pleases."

To Him give all the prophets witness, and so it must be Jesus only. The Lord alone shall be exalted. See how the kingdom in miniature—the Lord Jesus glorified and with Him the risen saints represented by Moses and the translated saints represented by Elijah. The three disciples may represent all Israel made righteous and the multitude at the foot of the hill the people to be blessed when the kingdom comes.

Blessed are all who see the glory of His kingdom, endeavor now to walk worthy of it and live to hasten it. As they came down from the mount He charged them to tell no one of the wonders they had seen till the Son of Man should be risen from the dead, but just what that saying meant not one of them could tell (verse 10), for they did not believe that He was to die. They remembered some of the last words of Malachi concerning Elijah and spoke of them, and Jesus endorsed them and said that they would surely be fulfilled, but that there had been already a fulfillment in John the Baptist.

THE LESSON QUIZ.

The Transfiguration. Mark ix 2-13. Golden Text.—A voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my Son, my chosen: hear ye him. And when the voice came Jesus was alone. Luke ix 35.

(1.) Verses 2-3.—What mountain did Jesus and his three disciples probably ascend and how high is it said to be?

(2.) What time of the day did the transfiguration probably take place?

(3.) What was the probable object aimed at in this transfiguration of Jesus? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(4.) Why did not Jesus take the whole company of the apostles to witness this great sight?

(5.) If, as is probable, the transfiguration took place at night how would you describe the scene?

(6.) Verse 4.—What opinion would you express as to why Moses and Elijah were selected from the innumerable company in heaven to appear on this occasion?

(7.) Do you think there were any other spirit people who could not be seen by mortal eye there?

(8.) What sort of bodies and what kind of voices did Moses and Elijah probably have?

(9.) Would you say, or not, and why, that the spirits of the dead are sometimes seen and conversed with today?

(10.) If a hunter and his dog had been on this mountain and at this spot when this scene occurred how much of it would they have probably seen and heard?

(11.) Verse 5.—How nearly may this transfiguration experience be enjoyed now by truly spiritual people?

(12.) What would you say is the maximum possibility at this time of seeing and hearing God and the inhabitants of the spirit world?

(13.) What is generally the experience today when a few devout souls get alone to talk of God and heaven and to pray?

(14.) Verse 6.—Why were these men afraid and why are people generally afraid in the presence of the supernatural?

(15.) When men and women are filled with the Spirit of God are they, as a rule, dull or bright in their intellectual faculties?

(16.) What is the resemblance, if any, between men being drunk with wine and filled with the Spirit? (See Eph. v. 18.)

(17.) Verses 7-8.—What would you say was the nature of this voice? Was it subjective or objective?

(18.) To whom must we listen today as final authority in spiritual matters?

(19.) Verse 9.—Why did Jesus tell them not to make known this experience until he was risen from the dead?

(20.) Are there spiritual experiences today that are better kept to ourselves?

(21.) Verse 10.—Why were they so obtuse about what Jesus had told them of his coming death and resurrection?

(22.) Verses 11-13.—In what way did Jesus mean that Elijah had come?

Lesson for Sunday, Dec. 1, 1912. The Lunatic Boy. Mark ix 14-29.

Crown Point, Ind., Nov. 22.—Harry Moose, former city clerk of Gary, who confessed perjury recently, was sentenced to state's prison in the Lake county circuit court. His sentence was made indeterminate for a period of six months to five years.

Moose told Judge Mahon that he made his confession because of a troubled conscience. Moose was the principal witness against Mayor T. E. Knotts and five accused aldermen in the bribery cases in which Thomas B. Dean, the prosecuting witness, sprang dictograph conversations on the accused men, whom, he declared, he bribed to pass a public utility ordinance. Moose was city clerk at that time.

Judge O. O. Swails returned to Bedford this morning where he is presiding at the Lawrence county circuit court.

DOCTORS FAILED AGAIN

THE GREAT REMEDY SAVED HER.

I am now in very fine condition, thanks to your medicine, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Ten years ago I was taken with kidney and liver troubles and it becoming very severe, I started to take different medicines supposed to cure these diseases and also doctored with well known physicians, but nothing seemed to help or cure me and all the time I was failing very fast until I became confined to my bed. One day I received a sample of Swamp-Root and noticed an improvement immediately after taking same. I then bought a fifty cent bottle and the improvement was so wonderful that I continued taking Swamp-Root until now am in such fine condition that I am running a rooming house with notion store in connection. I highly recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to any one having kidney or liver trouble in any of its various forms.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Manda Sheets,
MRS. MANDA SHEETS,

BLIND STATESMAN

May be The Next Leader of the United States Senate.

New York, Nov. 22.—According to information received from the highest Democratic sources, Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma is to be the Democratic leader of the United States senate. It was further stated by these same excellent authorities, that the Gore program as to leadership is already understood and accepted by President Elect Wilson. In all matters, political, social and personal, President Elect Wilson and Senator Gore are on familiar terms.

Senator Gore is forty-two years old. He is serving his second term in the senate. His term will expire in March, 1919.

Senator Gore's leadership of the Democrats in the senate is but a natural solution of the present situation among the Democrats of that body. It was stated today. Senator Bailey of Texas is to retire in the spring, and Senator Tillman of South Carolina is in extremely poor health, while Senator Rayner of Maryland is on his deathbed.

NEW CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA

Stomach is Removed and Patient Begins to Recover.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 22.—Alexander Winski will spend the remainder of his days without a stomach and also without stomach trouble. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital several days ago after medicines had failed to give him relief. Dr. MacBeth operated to explore the seat of trouble. He found the organ so diseased that it meant certain death to replace it, so he cut it out and sewed the lower intestine to the esophagus. Winski began to convalesce at once and the doctors say he will be soon well.

What Texans Admire

is healthy, vigorous life, according to Hugh Tallman, of San Antonio. "We find," he writes, "that Dr. King's New Life Pills surely put new life and energy into a person. Wife and I believe they are the best made." Excellent for stomach, liver or kidney troubles. 25c at The Andrews Drug Co., Seymour, Ind. Advertisement.

RECALLS HUNTING TRIP IN THE WOODS

Ortie E. McManigal Tells Interesting

Story When Again Placed on Stand in Dynamiting Case.

GIVES ADDITIONAL DETAILS

Told How he "Pulled Off" Llewellyn

Plant "Job" as a Christmas Gift For "The Old Man."

Indianapolis, Nov. 22.—When he resumed his place on the witness stand it was an interesting story that Ortie E. McManigal told to the jury in the dynamiting case. When on the stand last week he detailed circumstances attending his hunting trip in the woods of Wisconsin, and it was there that he picked up the thread of his story. Just before the hunting party started to leave for home witness said they were shooting at an old dishpan as a target. Turning to McManigal, J. B. McNamara handed him the dishpan and asked him to hold it at arm's length while he (McNamara) took a shot at it. "You go to hell," said McManigal. "I know what you want," he said. He did not propose to place himself in a position where he might be "accidentally" shot. They broke camp Dec. 2, said McManigal, but J. B. and the witness did not go back to Chicago together.

Witness further testified that on Dec. 11, 1910, J. J. McNamara wanted witness to go out to the coast and blow up the Times auxiliary building, the Baker iron works and the Llewellyn iron works. Witness told him things were too hot out there and he did not think it wise to go. He finally consented to go and J. B. and witness went to the cache at Beech Grove, east of Indianapolis, and got twelve quarts of nitroglycerine and brought it in with them. McNamara paid witness $200 in advance and told him not to see anybody while he was in Los Angeles.

The witness returned to Chicago and left that city for Los Angeles on the night of Dec. 13, 1910. He found men day and night at work on the Times auxiliary building and the Baker iron works were heavily guarded. He concluded that there was too much risk, both at the Baker plant and at the Times auxiliary, and he then visited the Llewellyn plant. There he arranged four quarts of the explosive in the shipping room and attached the batteries so as to cause the explosion at 2 o'clock on the morning of Dec. 25, that "it would be a Christmas present for the old man" (Tveitmo).

He then took a train for San Francisco and the next day went around to see Eugene Cheney and inquired for Tveitmo. He then produced a paper with an account of the Llewellyn explosion and remarked as he pointed to it: "I see there was something doing last night. When you see Tveitmo you tell him that the man who was to bring him the Christmas gift was here and that he is safe and on his way back east."

The witness testified that on Jan. 13 he received a telegram from J. J. McNamara asking him to come to this city at once. Witness did so and he and J. B. went to headquarters and found J. J. in a very bad humor because the Times auxiliary building and the Baker iron works jobs had not been pulled off.
